Today's Gospel is the conclusion of the Bread of Life discourse in John. After Jesus' continued insistence that he is the Bread of Life come down from heaven, and that his words are "Spirit and life," most of his disciples drift away. The Twelve, however, affirm their faith in Jesus, whom Simon Peter professes to "have the words of eternal life." In the first reading, Joshua and the Israelites are preparing to enter the Promised Land, and Joshua asks the people to decide which god they will follow, the Lord their God, or the gods of neighboring peoples. The Responsorial Psalm features Psalm 34, the "taste and see" psalm, that reflects the kinds of struggles the Israelites faced during their sojourn in the wilderness. In the second reading, Paul gives counsel for maintaining domestic peace and happiness.

El Evangelio de hoy de Juan es la conclusión del discurso del Pan de Vida. Después de la continua insistencia de que Jesús es el Pan de Vida bajado del cielo y que sus palabras son “Espíritu y vida”, la mayoría de sus discípulos se alejan. Sin embargo, los Doce afirman su fe en Jesús de quien Simón Pedro profesa que “tiene palabras de vida eterna”. En la primera lectura, Josué y los israelitas se preparan para entrar a la Tierra Prometida y, Josué pide al pueblo que decida a cuál dios seguirá, a Yahveh su Dios o a los dioses de los pueblos vecinos. El salmo responsorial presenta el salmo 34, el salmo de “gusten y vean” que muestra el tipo de luchas a las que los israelitas se enfrentaron durante su estancia en el desierto. En la segunda lectura, Pablo da consejos para mantener la paz y la felicidad en el hogar.
